Lot: 1

Indus Valley Civilization (mature phase, 2500 - 2000 BC), gold ornamental diskette, to be strung into a necklace, said to have been recovered as a surface find at Lothal, Gujarat. 2.11g. 30.79mm. Extremely fine, Extremely rare. A large hoard of such diskettes was found in May 2000 at Mandi in Muzaffarnagar district, Western Uttar Pradesh. The hoard was contained in two bronze containers and included many varieties of spacer beads, hollow terminal beads, single and double bell-shaped beads, and thin circular diskettes, similar to this one. However, this diskette is reportedly found at Lothal and if so, this would be the first ever object of its kind to be found at IVC sites in Western India. It has been fashioned with a rim and two very small holes with a neat cleft in on the radius. The technique and method of its manufacture are a testament to the skills and metallurgical knowledge of the Indus Valley Civilization.

Lot: 4

Ancient, Archaic Series, Punch Marked Coinage, attributed to Pauravas of Kaushambi (c. 400-350 BC), Silver 1/2 Karshapana, this is a single symbol coin, depicting a turtle on obverse and a bankers' mark on reverse. This series has been attributed to the Pauravas of Kaushambi. As per Puranas, on account of heavy floods in Hastinapur, a line of descendants of Pandavas and Kauravas (what was left of them after the famous Mahabharat war) left Hastinapur and migrated towards Kaushambi around 800 BC and settled there. Present issue is attributed to them. Pauravas were a smaller group of people (not finding mention in the list of 16 janapadas in Anguttara Nikaya) but were in existence during the times of Buddha, on account of which and due to use of an earlier weight standard, these coins are said to have been in circulation till a period when Magadha was spreading its empire but was yet to conquer the central/western parts of modern Uttar Pradesh. Thus the period during which this series might have been in circulation should not have lasted later than 380 BC to 360 BC, Mitchiner # pp.810 - 813 and Hardaker # pp. 109 - 113, very fine+, very rare.

Note: This specific type, showcasing a blend of Kushan and Gupta stylistic numismatic iconography, is often referred to as an usurper issue. The presence of ad hoc mints, distinct from the regular sites used by other rulers, and the use of Brahmi legends such as "Samudra," led Gobl to propose that a field commander may have struck these coins on behalf of Samudragupta. This likely occurred in a region not yet assimilated into the Gupta realm, where Kushan dinars were widely accepted as the standard currency. However, S. Kumar offers a simpler explanation, attributing the coins to the Rajadanda-Scepter type. This is supported by the King's attire resembling a tribal appearance and the presence of a Fire-Altar on these coins. As per TOTGE below 30pcs of Such Rajadanda Type Are Known

Mughal, Humayun (AH 937-947, AH 962-963, 1530-1540 AD), Copper Bahloli, 8.92 gms, Mandu Mint, AH 942, Humayun lead several expeditions, one such being to the Kingdom of Malwa. In the early 16th century, Humayun conquered the fortress of Mandu, inside which the Sultan of Gujarat Bahadur Shah had shut himself. Humayun's soldiers scaled the fort walls through ropes and ladders in the middle of the night and attacked an unprepared Bahadur Shah. The soldiers now inside, opened the gates of the fort for the Imperial Army. Bahadur Shah's army was precariously surrounded. Thus, he escaped to Champaner in Gujarat through the route of Songargh. Humayun conquered Mandu and took up residence in the Fort. He spent several months suppressing revolts in the vicinity of the Capital, laid siege and conquered the state of Gujarat. However, this victory was short-lived. As soon as Humayun returned to Agra, an official of the Pathan army took hold of the regions near the Narmada, Mandu and the neighbouring town of Bhilsa. He declared independence for the Mughal state and crowned himself under the title of Qadir Shah in AH 943. This rare copper Bahloli was minted in between AH 941 and 942 when Humayun resided in the Fort of Mandu. Similar to Zeno # 256346, very fine+, rare.

Mughal, Akbar (AH 963-1014, 1556-1605 AD), Silver Mahmudi, Mulher Mint (off flan), Mahmudi coinage, struck at Mulher by the Rajah of Baglana in the name of Jalal al-Din Muhammad Akbar the Great, Obv : Akbar's name & title (Laqab), and hijri date, Rev : kalima shahada in square, They circulated widely in the area of Surat & its borders, Baglana was a small Mahratta kingdom of India that was situated on the main trade route between Surat and Daulatabad and Golkonda, with Burhanpur nearby. Over a period of many centuries up until 1637, the kingdom had paid a tribute to various Muslim rulers. In that year, the territory was put under the administrative control of a Mughal faujdar as a part of Khandesh province. The erstwhile Raja of Baglana did not long survive the conquest and his successor converted to Islam, This Mahmudi coin was made to trade with Persian merchants at sea port of Surat (Bandar -I- Mubarak Surat) and was continuously produced even after Akbar's death. Akbar conquered Gujarat in AH 980 (1572 AD) and then temporarily lost control during Muzaffar Shah's revolt of AH 991 (1583 AD). Mulher (Mayurnagari) is a village in the Nashik district of Maharashtra, India. It is located on the right (south) bank of the Mausam River, 3.5 km by road east (downstream) of the village of Vide Digar and the Haranbari Dam. It is 9 km by road west (upstream) of Taharabad. It is located on State Highway 14. The Mulher Fort is located in the Mulher village. In the account books of the European trading companies certain articles were accounted for in rupees, whereas others consequently in Mahmudis. For instance land-tax was always fixed in Mahmudis. The weight of the Mahmudi is almost equal to a half imperial rupee (c.5.5-5.6 g.), but its fineness was considerable less (0.865) and therefore the official exchange rate in 1619 was 1:2.3 à 2.4 and from 1630 onwards 1:2,25. different coins have been reported with different mint marks below the word Akbar such as - fish, heart, crescent, Swastika, branch, spear, flag (dhwaj) and the last without any markings, Some of the Mahmudis bear posthumous dates, KM # 72.1, graded as MS 64 by NGC, rare in this grade.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

1. This is a public auction sale conducted by Jain Auction House, a licensed Auctioneer, issued by the Archaeology Survey of India, (hereinafter referred to as "Auctioneer"). Bidding in this Auction constitutes acceptance by you (the "Bidder") of all the Terms and conditions stated herein and shall be bound by them. Bidders may include consignors whomay bid and purchase lots in the Auction consigned by the consignor or by other consignors. The Buyer is the Bidder who makes the highest bid accepted by the Auctioneer. Only Indian residents/NRIs having valid address in India can bid in our Auctions.
2. Lots may carry a Reserve. A Reserve is a confidential price or bid below which the Auctioneer will not sell an item or will re-purchase on behalf of the Consignor.
3. All lots are guaranteed genuine. Any claim of lack of authenticity must be made in writing by the original purchaser immediately after discovery that an item is not authentic, and upon making such a claim Jain Auction House shall, in its sole and absolute discretion, reserve the right to consult and rely upon any expert(s) or authority considered by him reliable in establishing the authenticity of that lot. If the lot is then proved not authentic then the original purchaser must immediately return the lot to Jain Auction House in the same condition as at the time of the auction with the original Invoice and payment proof. Lots that have been encapsulated ("slabbed")/Graded by a grading and/or authentication service may not be returned for any reason, including authenticity, if they have been removed from the encapsulation ("slab")/Grading.
4. Lots are sold as shown with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. Attribution, date, condition, and other descriptions are the opinion of the cataloguer, and no warranty is expressed or implied. Neither the auctioneer nor the seller shall give warranty to any buyer in respect of any lot, or be liable for any fault or error of description. All statements as to the items sold, whether made in catalogues, during the course of the auction, or otherwise are statements of opinion only, and are not and shall not be taken to be statements or representations of fact. The auctioneer reserves the right in forming his opinion, to consult and rely upon any expert or authority considered by him reliable. Notwithstanding the forgoing, if any lot should have been wrongly described in any material aspect, the buyer may reject the same, provided that he shall have given notice of intention to do so and shall have returned the same to the auctioneer within seven (7) days from the day of the Auction, Under no circumstances will the auctioneer be liable for any costs, expenses or damages incurred by the buyer in respect of any lot, including, but not limited to, loss of any kind of profit whatsoever. Estimates are intended as a guide only and not as a statement of opinion of value. Bidders are advised to scrutinize the lots they bid for.
5. The Auctioneer shall have the right to open or accept the bidding on any lot by placing a bid on behalf of the Consignor, a Bidder by mail, telephone, internet, or any other participant in the Auction. Bids must be for an entire lot and each lot constitutes a separate sale. Lots will be sold in their numbered sequence unless Auctioneer directs otherwise. Auctioneer shall have the right in his or her sole and absolute discretion to accept or decline any bid, challenge any bid or bidding increment, to reduce any mail bid received, adjudicate all bidding disputes and to determine the prevailing bid. The Auctioneer shall have the right, but not the obligation, to rescind the acceptance of any bid and place the lot for Auction again. Auctioneer's decision on all bidding disputes shall be binding and final.
6. No "unlimited" or "buy" bids will be accepted. When identical bids are received for a lot, preference is given to the first bid received as determined by the Auctioneer. A mail bid will take precedence over an identical floor bid. Bids will not be accepted from persons under eighteen (18) years of age. The estimate figure below each lot are the auctioneer's estimate of an expected price only, bids which are less than the lower estimate will not be considered by the auctioneer.
7. Your bids will be treated as your maximum bid. Jain Auction House is not responsible for any errors in bidding. All Bidders should make certain to bid on the correct lot and that the bid is the bid intended. Once the lot is announced sold, the Buyer is unconditionally bound to pay for the lot, even if the Buyer made a mistake.
8. Jain Auction House reserve the right to postpone or cancel the auction without notice in its sole discretion.
